EMERINE IN BANKERS' REALIZATION COMPANY

When E. S. Emerine, former cashier of the Citizens' German National Bank and later of the American Savings and Trust company of Hammond resigned from the latter institution several weeks ago, and announced that he had the organization of a new enterprise in mind, there was considerable speculation among his friends and acquaintances as to what the nature of it would be. Having made a success as a financier it was taken for granted that his new undertaking would be something closely allied to the banking business, and these conclusions proved to be correct.

Filed Next Week.

Incorporation papers are to be filed this week or early next week at Indianapolis for the incorporation of the Bankers' Realization Company, with a capital stock of $100,000. Who the officers and the members of the board of directors will be has not yet been determined. Contrary to the general banking policy of concentrating the capital stock in comparatively few hands, the new organization will attempt to spread the stock among 2,500 if possible. The officers and board of directors are to be chosen from these and the official personnel is to consist of Hammond men. The company will have its headquarters on the third floor of the Hammond building in suite 308.

In its prospectus the company states that it has formed connections with eastern financial institutions whose money to the extent of many thousands of dollars is to be brought into the city in exchange for the mortgages and bonds on Hammond property. In this way the company will be a new source for the investor who would improve his property or enlarge his business. It will handle real estate in all the business that most state banks aim to do, but instead of drawing its money from depositors, will work through its eastern connections.

A Commercial Clearing House.

It aims to be a commercial clearing house and will cater especially to such assets which can be readily liquidated and converted, hoping in this way to make them yield the maximum return. Other institutions have made a big success of this form of financing especially in the east, and Mr. Emerine is confident that he can make a success of the new concern.

As cashier of two of the popular banks in the city, Mr. Emerine had come in contact with a large clientele, which has absolute confidence in his business acumen and shrewdness, which he demonstrated time and again in the sharp conflicts of business competition with older heads. That he make a success of the Bankers' Realization company is taken for granted.

RECOMMEND UNION TICKET

Committees representing the democratic and progressive parties of East Chicago and Indiana Harbor, with a mild sprinkling of disgruntled republicans, met last night in East Chicago and decided to recommend to their several parties, a union ticket to oppose the straight republican ticket and any others that may be placed in the field.

There were present nine progressives, two republicans and ten democrats and it was decided by a vote of 11 to 10 to nominate the candidates by delegate convention instead of by primaries. In this it is presumed that the democrats stood pat and the progressives and republicans united, to put over this measure. If the delegate plan is approved by the parties represented, it is proposed to name one delegate each from each of the twenty precincts of the Twin Cities from the progressives, democrats and disgruntled republicans to make up the convention. This will make a convention of sixty delegates. The next meeting of the committees will be held at Schriebers Hall, Indiana Harbor next Tuesday.

Were Discharged.

In the case of the state of Indiana vs. Mike Paloney, Joe Hink, John Gresko and Steve Evans, who were arrested by Constable Phelps on a charge of rioting, three of the defendants were discharged in Judge Prest's court last night and Hink was found guilty and fined $1 and costs.

SLATED FOR GOOD JOB IN TREASURY

Byron Newton, the ex-newspaper man who has been acting as secretary to William C. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, is named as a very probable successor to Assistant Secretary Sherman Allen, a holdover in the treasury department from the last administration. Allen was also a newspaper man and was appointed by President Taft after he had served for some time as an assistant secretary at the executive office.

FALLS OUT OF BERTH ON TRAIN

Valparaiso Man Suffers Injury in Unusual Accident When Monon Curves Halt Trip to Europe and Bring Him Disaster.

Dr. F. W. Mitchell of Valparaiso, who boarded a Monon train at Hammond last Thursday night for the races at Indianapolis on the following morning, with a peculiar accident enroute which prevented him from seeing the races or continuing the European trip which he had planned for professional studies abroad. He returned to Valparaiso yesterday after having been in the care of a specialist for several days.

The doctor was on a Monon train which left Hammond at 11:55 p. m. and occupied an upper berth in one of the sleepers. In the early morning, when attempting to alight from the berth, the train gave a sudden lurch as it rounded one of the short curves for which the Monon is noted, throwing him violently to the floor of the car, breaking his left wrist, bruising his head severely, and causing other minor injuries.

Dr. Mitchell returned to Chicago Friday and remained there in the care of a specialist until this morning. He thought for a day or two that he would be compelled to give up his European trip, but now expects to be in New York city in time to sail on the 10th inst. as at first scheduled. His only bother now is the fear that his injury may not improve rapidly enough for him to take the special course in his profession in Europe, for which he has already arranged. His brother, of Marietta, O., will accompany him on the trip.

HAMMOND MAN BACK FROM CAPITOL

C. B. Stiver's Job Depends Entirely on Pete Krueyer of South Bend.

C. B. Stiver of May street, Hammond, who is slated for one of the appointive offices for the sixth revenue district is still awaiting word from Washington as to just what he may expect. He is in line for the biggest office in the district, provided Krueyer of South Bend who has the first refusal of it, turns it down. Aside from Mr. Stiver was assured in Washington when he interviewed Senator Shively last week, he can have anything else he desires, in the way of a deputyship or a chief clerkship.

Mr. Stiver left for the capital city a week ago yesterday and returned last Saturday, but still without any definite knowledge about the future.

PROGRAM FOR SEWER MEETING

PROGRAM OF MEETING AT HAMMOND THEATRE TONIGHT.

1. Call to order—Judge Virgil S. Reiter, president, Hammond Chamber of Commerce.
2. Question of Sanitation—Dr. Wm. D. Weis, president, Lake County Medical society.
3. Gary's Sewer System—A. P. Melton, city engineer of Gary.
4. The General Plan—W. S. Shields, consulting engineer for city.
5. Ten two-minute speeches—By leading citizens of Hammond.
6. The Opposition's Side—By speakers assigned by them.
7. The Advocate's Side—By speakers assigned by them.
8. Questions and answers on the matter of cost, etc.

A union of both factions to one end assures the success of tonight's mass meeting in the Hammond theatre at which the question of a deep sewer system for Hammond is to receive a fair and full discussion. C. W. Delaney, a leader of the opposition, told Rocco E. Woods, today that the anti is making every effort to bring as many of their converts and candidates for conversion to the meeting as possible. If this is true the whole business will be settled tonight unless the anti has conceived of a new and improved argument on the one they have exploited of late. Should the majority of anti be present this evening in an unbiased frame of mind to hear the whole thing through the mass meeting would be a great success.

C. W. Delaney, Louis Heckleman and Nicholas Hahn are to speak against the sewer. Delaney is the most progressive of the anti, while the other two are known as reactionary. Delaney has been hanging in the balance for some time, and if his questions can be answered satisfactorily and his arguments defeated he may come over. With him will come a host of others who have confidence in his integrity and ability.

Plants All For It.

Judge Virgil S. Reiter and Frank Denning motored to every manufacturing plant in town yesterday and in every case were told by the head of the establishment that the deep sewer is necessary. Petitions were left at all places with an understanding that employees will be given a chance to sign them.

The Standard Steel Car company is badly in need of better sewer disposal. Conkey's, Betz, Simplex, Reid-Murdoch's and the rest were all visited by the deep sewer workers.

WAR TALK BOSH, SAY JAP PEACE ENVOYS

Dr. J. Soyeda, the foremost financier of Japan, and T. Kamiya, secretary of the Tokyo chamber of commerce, have come to America for the purpose of smoothing over the sensitive feelings of Japanese in this country who were miffed by the California anti-alien bill. Both declare that the talk of war between the United States and the Flowery Kingdom is bosh, and that the Japanese entertain only the friendliest feelings toward Americans.

CONKEY IS DISTRICT CHAIRMAN

Lake County having added sixty-five members to the Indiana Manufacturers & Shippers' association, after a local canvass by C. S. Lee, assistant secretary of the organization, W. B. Conkey of Hammond was tendered the Tenth district membership on the executive committee, a position which he accepted. As president of the Hammond Manufacturers' association and for many years an officer in that organization in one capacity or another in the Indiana state body, will give general satisfaction. The state association now has a membership of 1,300 members and is the largest single organization in the state. Mr. Lee leaves for Chicago tomorrow to organize the 45 firms in Chicago owning Indiana plants.

Of the 65 members in Lake county 20 are in Hammond, 7 in East Chicago, 7 in Indiana Harbor, 6 in Whiting, 10 in Gary, 4 in Crown Point and one in Hobart. Ten more firms in Lake county have promised to join in the near future.

"We are very much gratified," said Mr. Lee, "at the support given the state association by the interested business men of Hammond and vicinity. It has been enthusiastic and we always welcome the co-operation given us in that spirit. The spirit manifested here, we have found, to be second to that of no other community in the state. When men like Mr. Conkey, Mr. Locklin, Mr. Geyer, the Messrs. Kinner, Judge V. S. Reiter, J. B. Brunsel of the Hammond Chamber of Commerce and others put their shoulder to the wheel things are bound to move. We are especially grateful to the co-operation given us by the officers of the Hammond Chamber of Commerce, the Hammond Manufacturers' association, the Gary Commercial club and the Indian Harbor and East Chicago Commercial club. It has been a pleasure to me to meet the gentlemen I have here, and to work with them, and I am certain that the success of the membership campaign in Lake county could not have been brought about without their assistance."

Socialist Meeting.

Hammond socialists will meet again tonight to plan by referendum vote the ticket made at last night's convention in the Hotel Majestic. Paul Wright, a leading socialist, stated that there will be nothing given out concerning the personnel of this ticket until after this evening's session.

Speakers occupied the floor most of the time during the convention last night and most of the time was devoted to political talk. This will be dispensed with tonight at a brief but busy meeting.

FLYER NAILS NEW VICTIM

The Pennsylvania railroad tracks in Tolleston, the slaughter scene of more than half a dozen men recently, last night claimed another victim when a man believed to be Thomas Kehoe of Tolleston was slain on the first street crossing.

This morning the body was found along the tracks. Kehoe, if that is his name, evidently was struck by a flyer as nearly every bone in his body was broken.

Papers found in the pockets by the Gary police who searched the man's effects at Williams' morgue indicate that he is Kehoe.

He was dressed as a working man.

A partial description follows: About 50 years old; 5 feet 10 inches; medium build, 150 pounds; gray hair; working clothes.

COUNCIL HAS QUEER MEETING

City Fathers Haggle Over City Business and Alderman John Sturm Relieves Himself in a Most Emphatic Sort of Way.

A member of the Hammond common council berated well at last night's synod of the brethren while on his feet in the midst of the mob and facing the mayor, he said: "O, hell," in a dejected sort of way, resigning himself to the will of the majority that the meeting be devoted to squabbles and scraps, the renewing of old animosities and the passing of the life.

That single profane utterance by Alderman John Sturm of the Tenfourth turned the tide. The humorous vein of the council opened wide, and while aldermen were convulsed with laughter, carried away the had blood that had corrupted the meeting. From melodrama to burlesque is a long cry, but that is what Sturm accomplished.

Even a serious deadlock in the last of the ninth was treated in a sportive manner, councilmen snickering and sorting as one of their number would flip. Yet beneath the surface of scraps and frolic which marked the last half of the evening a hard game of politics was being played.

By parley and exchange important matters were settled one by one until a total business of $13,685 had been done by the passing of ordinances, ranging from a grant increase in the salaries of police and firemen to the erection of a rain shed at Douglas park. And by profuse sweating and heated speech-making each alderman did his best by his constituents, though losing much by compromise.
